A Sweeping Fire Visits TO-DAY'S ELECTION IN BOSTON

The Indications Point to Mayo

O'Brien's Re-Election by a Reduced

Plurality. Boston, Dec. 12 .- The municipal election which takes place to-morrow will be the oc casion of many sharp fights at the polls, especially in various aldermanic districts. Hon. Thomas N. Hart, the Republican and ndependent candidate for mayor, has not waged an aggressive campaign, but has dereloped a strong following and his strongest apporters assert that he will poll a surprisingly large vote, while a few even declare that he will be elected. This belief is shared by only a few and, per contra, extremists are found on the opposite side who declare that Mayor O'Brien will be re-elected by a largely ncreased plurality. The general feeling ex-ressed by those who are capable of forming an unbiased opinion is that Mayor O'Brien will win, but by a lower plurality than last year. In 1886 O'Brien's plurality was 4,740, but it is wispered that some of his warmest adherents practically admit that he will not secure over 2,200 this year. t is in the aldermanic districts that the fight will be hottest and this will be particularly the case in districtt Nos. 1, 2, 6, 9 and 12 n No. 1 Sullivan (dem.) is opposed by Jess M. Gore, chairman of the Republican war and city committee, and the contest in this district, although devoid of the personalities that characterize those in other districts, will yet be close and exciting. In district No. 2 J. Doherty (dem.) was nominated by the depublicans, while the regular Democratic ominee is Francis J. Murphy, at present a ember of the common Sprowell Pease is the candidate of disaffected Republicans. The district, hitherto Demo cratic, is thus divided against itself and the three-cornered fight each faction to more vigorous the three cornered fight spur and the result is awaited with interest. In district No. 6 Alderman has for his oppo nent Edward J. Jenkins, ex-president of the common council, and a bitter personal fight has marked the contest in this district. Carroll is an active leader in political affairs and a member of the so-called City Hall ring. He s a liquor seller by occupation and the fight mire has found a strong antagonist in the Ninth district in the person of John C.

The friends of prohibition are feeling opeful of the result of to-morrow's vote on coense and firmly believe that the temperate sentence and that the sentence be cumulative. Judge Sage overruled the motion, and asked if the defendant had anything to ance vote will show a large gain over last year. The prohibitionists have been doing a great deal of work in a quiet way and feel assured that the result of their labors will be say before sentence was pronounced upon him. BALTIMORE, Dec. 12 .- A dispatch to the Sun from Washington says: "The muchabused Eugene Higgins has determined to retire from the Treasury department shortly and will place in the hands of Secretary Fairchild his resignation. This step is en-tirely voluntary on the part of Mr. Higgins, and it would have been taken a few months after his appointment had it not been for the personal abuse heaped upon him by the Republican and Mugwump press."

The Somerville Prisoner Brought Into Court to be Tried for Her Life. Boston, Dec. 12 .- The long delayed trial of Mrs. Sarah Jane Robinson, the alleged poisoner of Willie J. Robinson, Lizzie J. Robinson, Moses Robinson, her children, and of Oliver Sleeper and Prince Arthur Freeman, was begun in the supreme judicial court at East Cambridge this morning be-fore Justices Field and Knowlton. Dr. Charles C. Beers and Thomas R. Smith, who were arrested as Mrs. Robinson's accomplices, were present. Mrs. Robinson was attired in black and was very pale as the proceedings began with the work of impanelling a jury. She betrayed no nervousness, nowever, and seemed interested in the legal controversies. A large number of jurors were challenged by both sides, but the pane was finally completed and Judge Field in-formed the jury that as the trial would probably last some days they might retire in the custody of officers to write home to their families. The indictment was read and the ary retired. After the reading of the in-lictment, which charged all three persons with murder, Clerk Hurd announced that the government had decided to nol pros. the ounts against Smith and Beers and to retain the first count only against Mrs. Robinson, which charges her with the murder by poisoning of her son, Willie J. Robinson. The noon ecess was then taken.

When the court came in after recess Dis trict Attorney Stevens said that the govern-ment desired to introduce evidence concern-ing the deaths of the other members of Mrs. Robinson's family, all of whom died from the effects of arsenical poisoning and each one exhibiting symptoms similar to the others. This arsenic was not administered in a single dose, he said, but a series of doses and in each case the prisoner had general charge of the sick room and superintended the giving of medicines. In the case of the earlier victims monetary benefits from insurance companies were expected and received. The district attorney quoted precedents in favor of allowing the introduction of such evidence as he wished to put in and his argument occupied most of the afternoon. The judge said that in some cases such evidence might be allowed, while in others it would be manifestly improper. The court then adjourned until said, but a series of doses and in each case

Hakes, chief clerk of the company, were arrested to day for making nent agriculturalists were present in the city. false returns to the insurance commissioner Beecher was released on a bond of $5,000 given by Charles E. Perkins, his attorney.

Judge Henney accepted the bond. Hakes was taken to the police station and subsequently to the office of Case, Maltbie & Bryant. Later he was taken before Judge Henney and his bond fixed at $2,000. He had difficulty in finding a bondsman, but said that he relied upon Vice President Winchester of the company, who was averaged business without charge for salaries or commissions, has begun business, having taken $500,000 of risks. The address endorses the inter-State commerce bill and favore that that he relied upon Vice President Winchester of the company, who was expected to come to Hartford from South Windham during the day. He finally arrived and gave bonds for Mr. Hakes. The date of the hearing was fixed for the Sist of December.

The charge against Mr. Hakes is that of making false entries, and the specific charge is that he entered as assets $40,000 of farm mortgage bonds which the company did not possess.

President Parsons is charged in common with Secretary Beecher with making false returns to the insurance department and also with making false entries in the books of the company. President Parsons has been out of the city for several days and the Times says editorially: "It is reported with confidence that he went through Buffalo on Friday and that he is now in Canada."

To the man or woman who has never been ill the word "health" is meaningless. But does the attitude of Master J. H. Hale's address on the tariff.

Fiftieth Congress--First Session. WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. ENATE.—Immediately after the reading of the rnal of Thursday Mr. Hoar offered a resolution

ning the senators to constitute the standing con tees for the Fifth Congress. The resolution wa depted.

A similar resolution naming the senators to contitute the select committees was also offered by Ir. Hoar and adopted.

A large number of communications and petition rere presented and referred, among them the following: For allowance of bounty of $8.33 to all the war. For sussions to all who served during the war. For mendment of the constitution allowing Congress to the subject of marriages and the subject of pensions to all who served during the war. For amendment of the constitution allowing Congress to pass uniform laws on the subject of marriage and divorce. For an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture, importation or sale of intoxicating liquors in the United States.

Many bills were introduced and referred, among them the following: By Mr. Beck.—For the retirement of United States legal tender and national bank notes of small denominations, and the issue of coin certificates in lieu of gold and silver certificates; also to facilitate the business of the Treasury department. By Mr. Dolph—For the admission of Washington territory into the Union. By Mr. Aldrich.—To authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to apply the surplus money in the treasury to the purchase of U-ited States bonds or to the payment of interest on the public debt.

By Mr. Manderson—Granting a pension to every soldier and sailor who is incapacitated for the performance of manual labor and for pensions to deep dendent relatives of decased soldiers and sailors (He said that he istroduced this bill at the unanimous request of the executive committee of the Grand Army of the Republic.) Also for the admission of the State of Dakota and the organization of certifory of Liucoln.

By Mr. Cullem, for a pension to the widow of sion of the State of Dakota and the organization of territory of Lincoln.

By Mr. Cullem, for a pension to the widow of General John A. Logan; also for a constitutional ameadment in relation to bigamy and polygamy. By Mr. Hale, to prohibit the letting of government work to contractors employing convict labor.

By Mr. Mitchell, to abrogate all treaties with the Chinese empire so far as they permit the coming of Chinese into the United States and absolutely prohibiting the same except as to diplomatic, consular and other officials; also to prohibit objectionable foreign immigration, encourage desirable immigration, defend American institutions and protect American labor. tion, defend American institutions and protect American labor.

Mr. Beck offered a resolution directing the post-office committee to inquire into the advisability of reducing the rate of letter postage to one cent when letters do not exceed an ounce in weight, and asked that it be laid on the table saying that he might introduce a bill to that effect; so ordered.

Mr. Platt offered a resolution instructing the committee on finance to inquire into the expediency of exempting from duty articles of personal baggage not intended for sale; adopted. Mr. Platt gave notice that he would to morrow offer a resolution providing for open sessions of the Senate on treatproviding for open sessions of the Senate on treat-es and executive nominations except when other wise ordered.

Speaker Carlisle having left the chair, and havis called up Mr. Crisp to preside, briefly requested thouse to relieve him of the responsibility of a pointing the committee on elections. He said the he early selection of that committee by the House would greatly facilitate the appointment of the there committees. Mr. Holman of Indiana offered a resolution that the House will at 1 o'clock to-morrow proceed to elect fifteen members who will constitute the com-mittee on elections for the present session. Adopted. A number of propositions to amend the rules were submitted and referred to the committee on rules when appointed. The House at 12 o'clock ad-journed and caucuses of both parties were called for the purpose of selecting the members of the committee on elections.
